

Camden County Children's Interagency
Coordinating Council (CIACC) Educational
Partnership Committee Presents our 2019
Winter Training:

Anxiety and Related Disorders

Presented by: Martin E. Franklin, PhD, Clinical Director, Rogers Behavioral Health in Philadelphia

Friday, January 24, 2020

8:30am-12:30pm

Camden County College, Room: CON 105 (Civic Hall)
200 College Drive · Blackwood, NJ 08012

Martin E. Franklin, PhD, is a nationally renowned expert whose clinical and research interests have focused on developing effective treatments for obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD), OC-spectrum disorders and body-focused repetitive behaviors, as well as the study and treatment of anxiety and depressive psychotherapy in youth with autism spectrum conditions.

Dr. Franklin serves as the clinical director of Rogers Behavioral Health's Philadelphia location. Dr. Franklin also is an associate professor emeritus of clinical psychology in psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania Perelman School of Medicine, where he has been honored for teaching excellence by his colleagues on the faculty at the University of Pennsylvania.

Please contact Sonia Cohen, at scohen@firstchildrenservices.com or
(856) 888-1097 ext. 304 with any questions.

